MEET THE TEAM

Owner of Pahrump Life

Christopher Salute

To the Community that I Hold so Dear, I am so darn excited to serve Pahrump as the new owner of Pahrump Life Magazine. I want to sincerely thank Jim and Christine Butler for the years of work, care, and community spirit they poured into Pahrump Life Magazine over the past few years. Publications like this move to a new owner as a once in a lifetime opportunity. Pahrump Life is part of our town's story, and that is why I wanted to be a part of it. It's why I began writing for them over 2 years ago and I'm grateful for the foundation they built. I will be honored to continue it.

Behind every magazine is a great team.

My wife, Megan, and I are incredibly excited to begin this next chapter. While she is not an owner, she has been a constant source of encouragement, support, ideas, and belief throughout this journey. This magazine is something we genuinely care about because we care deeply about this community. True to her wedding vows for me [we were married on April 10th], "You wake up every morning, and find a new injustice to fight against."

Now, this isn't an injustice. Pahrump Life has been serving the Pahrump community for nearly 40 years. Our town deserves even more, and I don't mean more people and more Walmarts. We deserve more peace, more satisfaction, and more opportunities for our neighbors and their families to thrive.

Our new tagline is simple: "Your community, your stories." That is exactly what we want Pahrump Life to continue to be: a place where local businesses, families, events, organizations, and everyday people can be seen, celebrated, and connected.

With gratitude,

Christopher Salute
Owner, Pahrump Life Magazine

Pahrump Life

For nearly 5 years, Christine and Jim Butler have been instrumental in the success and continued growth of Pahrump Life Magazine. As we transition to new ownership, please join us in offering a warm "THANK YOU" as Jim and Christine enjoy some WELL DESERVED retirement time. Look out for a special edition of Pahrump Life Magazine surveying the history of the brand!

Sagebrush & Sunrises: Telling the Stories of Pahrump's Women [A Teaser]

Megan Salute

Community Member & Pahrump Life Writer

I remember the first time I made the drive over the hump to Pahrump three years ago. It was still early enough that I had the privilege of driving with the rise of the sun. My path held a bruise of blue at the horizon, then softened as a thin gold thread teased the world awake. Mountains held themselves like women who have weathered storms and the last glimmer of moonlight pooled like a silver pendant around the neck of the sky.

Perhaps it was the allure of something new that drew me in. Maybe it was the way the sagebrush leaned like gossiping friends as the sky lightened, breathing warm and slow. Three years later, I am fully in love with the beauty of Pahrump. Three years does not seem like a long time in the grand picture of life, but for me it was long enough to start scratching the surface of the hidden gem that is this community... [Read More in July]

Celebrating Three Years of Community and Small Business

On Saturday, April 25, 2026, the team at Low Side Cigar Lounge celebrated an amazing milestone in Pahrump: three successful years serving their community with welcoming atmosphere that truly feels like family. And we mean that.

From 3:00 PM until close, friends and family gathered to celebrate not just a business anniversary, but true success of a locally owned small business- One that has become a staple within the community.

What makes Low Side special is being more than just another lounge. It is the environment they have created. Owner and Managers Matt and Dawna Brewer bought all local gift cards to support the community in their raffles. They provided free food from Mia Ava Pizza... and continued to create the environment held so dear by their patrons.

Congratulations to the entire team on this amazing anniversary!

Meet Pahrump's Renaissance Woman: Kathie McKenna

SNEAK PEEK

When someone in Nye or Esmeralda County faces a crisis... domestic violence, a child in foster care, a family on the edge of homelessness... there's a very good chance Kathie McKenna and her Avengers are already at work behind the scenes. As Executive Director of Nevada Outreach Training Organization [Otherwise known as NOTO or simply, Nevada Outreach], which encompasses a plethora of services, she oversees a HUGE network of services. Those services stretch from Pahrump to Tonopah and beyond. Nevada Outreach's No to Abuse program provides around-the-clock advocacy for survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking, while the Pahrump Family Resource Center connects struggling families with housing assistance, utility support, clothing, and more.

The Nye County Children's Advocacy Center, also under Nevada Outreach's umbrella, ensures that children who have experienced abuse are supported with care and dignity throughout the process. Through ACORN - Advocates for Children of Rural Nevada... McKenna also champions foster youth, recruiting and training volunteer court advocates who give children a voice before a judge. Her philosophy is straightforward: Don't just respond to crises, prevent them. Now, you have just seen the tip of a very compassionate iceberg here in Pahrump. In rural Nevada, where resources are scarce and distances are vast, McKenna represents the good we all want to see in our community. But did you know where she actually started her career? And, why she chose Pahrump? How about the amount of animals she cares for? You'll learn more in our next edition!

FEEL LIKE YOURSELF AGAIN.

RECOVER. RESTORE. REBUILD.

Your body already creates peptides naturally...
But production and cellular communication
begin slowing down with age — especially after your 30s.

DEREK Z. GOMEZ
FOUNDER & CEO

THE FUTURE OF WELLNESS IS CELLULAR.

Your body was designed to heal, recover, and function efficiently.
THE GOAL IS TO SUPPORT IT.

WHAT ARE PEPTIDES?

Peptides are naturally occurring chains of amino acids that help your body communication at the cellular level.

Think of them as tiny messengers that help signal important functions throughout the body — including recovery, metabolism, energy production, muscle support, skin health, sleep, focus, and overall wellness.

As we age, the body's natural peptide production and cellular communication can become less efficient. Research surrounding peptide therapy focuses on helping support and restore those communication pathways.

HOW DO PEPTIDES WORK?

Injectable peptides are small amino acid chains designed to support communication between cells.

Research suggests peptides may help support:

- ✓ Recovery & Repair
- ✓ Lean Muscle Support
- ✓ Weight Management
- ✓ Healthy Aging
- ✓ Energy & Stamina
- ✓ Sleep Quality
- ✓ Skin & Hair Appearance
- ✓ Hormonal Balance
- ✓ Cognitive Performance
- ✓ Inflammation Response
- ✓ Metabolic Function
- ✓ Overall Wellness

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

ARE PEPTIDES STEROIDS?

No. Peptides are not anabolic steroids. Peptides are amino acid chains naturally found within the body and are researched for their ability to support natural biological processes.

DO MEN AND WOMEN USE PEPTIDES?

Yes. Both men and women explore peptide research for a variety of wellness and performance goals.

WHY ARE PEOPLE TALKING ABOUT PEPTIDES NOW?

Research into peptides has expanded rapidly because of growing interest in longevity, recovery, metabolism, and cellular optimization.

WHAT HAPPENS TO OUR BODIES AS WE AGE?

Over time, the body's communication systems naturally become less efficient. Recovery slows down, energy decreases, sleep quality changes, and maintaining muscle or healthy weight becomes more difficult.

CAN PEPTIDES HELP ME?

Everyone's body and goals are different. Many individuals explore peptides as part of a wellness-focused lifestyle that includes nutrition, exercise, sleep, and healthcare guidance.
